In those cases wherein the source of information in a report is of a highly confidential nature, the informant will not be named in the report proper, but it will be stated that "Informant (A) Advised," the informant's name to be set forth in a separate letter to this office accompanying the report.

It is not intended that promiscuous use be made of this method of reporting. Only in those cases where the source of information is highly confidential should this method be employed.

This procedure is necessitated by the fact that other Government agencies, in increasing number, are reviewing our files daily, and we desire to avoid an inadvertent disclosure of our confidential sources.
